4 An officer while temporarily employed on special duty outside his ordinary work is debarred from counting his service on the temporary duty for increments in his permanent post. (Art 96.1. RSR) The case in question is that of an officer on a permanent establ detached on temporary duty on the understanding that when the temporary duty ceases, he will return to the permanent establ In the present case, the temporary appointments carry a definite rate of pay and sanctioned for a limited time only. Art. 96.(i) RSR seems to apply to officers on deputation and not to officer such as those in

Dom 2475 Rule 96 Note applies as the men on 1874/11 absence can only be considered under 11(1)(c) on deputation tour or on a temporary appt. In my own case when in the Census of 1901 I was an Asst Census Supdt my increments in my place in the Comptroller Office was stopped for the entire period I was away. but it seems hard that men should be required to work under these conditions when one who has undergone it can only never hope to be relieved this way.

The peculiar danger I see is that Hony Offrs entirely overlook the claims of men away on Census duty when making arrangements in their offices. The correct way would be to promote the absentee and then proceed to appoint another substitute in his place instead of entirely ignoring them.
Such cases came under my personal notice during the last Census of 1901.

I therefore desirable that all concerned to pass an order that men absent on Census duty should be kept in their permanent places and that all promotions should be

OFFICE OF THE CENSUS SUPERINTENDENT

Bangalore, ...30th March.....1911.

Census Superintendent in Mysore.

To

C. S. Balasundaram Iyer, Esquire, B. A., Offg. Secretary to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, General and Revenue Departments.

Through the Revenue Commissioner in Mysore.

SIR,

I have the honour to bring to the notice of Government that some of the officials selected for the Census Superintendent's and the Abstraction Office are holding permanent appointments carrying progressive salaries and that they apprehend that their service in this Office may not count for increments in their permanent posts. I therefore request that a general order may be issued directing that approved service in this Office may count towards their periodical increments in their permanent offices.

2. I beg further to bring to the notice of Government that many officials hesitate to accept appointments in the Census Office lest their claims for promotion in their own offices during their service in a temporary office would be lost sight of and that the Census office is thereby handicapped in its efforts to get an efficient staff.

I request that the Government will also be pleased to issue an order on this point.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

Census Superintendent.
